

Guidewire InsuranceNow

An Integrated Core, Data, and Digital Solution in the Cloud

DATA SHEET

Guidewire InsuranceNow™ is a cloud-based, all-in-one solution that supports the P&C insurance lifecycle. Its integrated design, out-of-the-box functionality, and guided approach enable fast implementation and quick upgrades. Cloud-based delivery and ongoing operational support by Guidewire provide insurers the freedom to focus on innovation and respond rapidly to market demands, even when they have limited IT support.

The business of P&C insurance is complex. It entails much more than the core services of policy administration, claims, and billing. The technology you employ throughout the insurance lifecycle needs to be as robust and comprehensive as the business itself. With InsuranceNow, everything you need—from core to data to digital—is “always-on” and at your fingertips.

Industry analyst research points to a growing uptake of core system suites. While this increase may be a result of providers adding more advanced functionality, you may need to look closer to find the solution that enables you to quickly respond to future market, consumer, and agent demands and, most importantly, meet the unique needs of your business.

How a suite was designed and delivered can put you at an advantage or a disadvantage from the beginning. If the system was built as a single solution, as InsuranceNow is, you’ll reap the benefits: rapid implementation and upgrades that take weeks rather than months. InsuranceNow is cloud-based, enabling the system to automatically scale in response to business demands. Redundant production environments ensure business continuity, so you can set your mind at ease and your business in motion.

Our cloud-based system automatically scales to match load. It can accommodate unexpected spikes in needs—even those brought about by a CAT. With InsuranceNow, you can be certain your applications will be there for the business at all times.

Purposeful Design

From its inception, InsuranceNow was designed as an all-in-one, cloud-based solution. It enables insurers to respond quickly to an ever-changing business environment, regardless of their available IT resources.

Integrated

One of the many benefits of an all-in-one design is that everything comes integrated out-of-the-box. This eliminates the challenges of systems that were acquired over time and sewn together—multiple logins, different user experiences, and drawn-out upgrades. Because InsuranceNow is one system, a single upgrade keeps your business current. And because all functions are on the same system, testing and training are faster as well. Users have one set of tools, one user interface, and one place to make changes.

With an all-in-one solution, you can implement all modules at the same time, which avoids temporary workarounds and integrations that often require heavy IT resources. It is possible to go-live with the entire system in months rather than years. The less time you spend working disparately in different systems and the quicker you have all your staff trained and working in a common system, the quicker you can realize the return on your investment and get back to business.

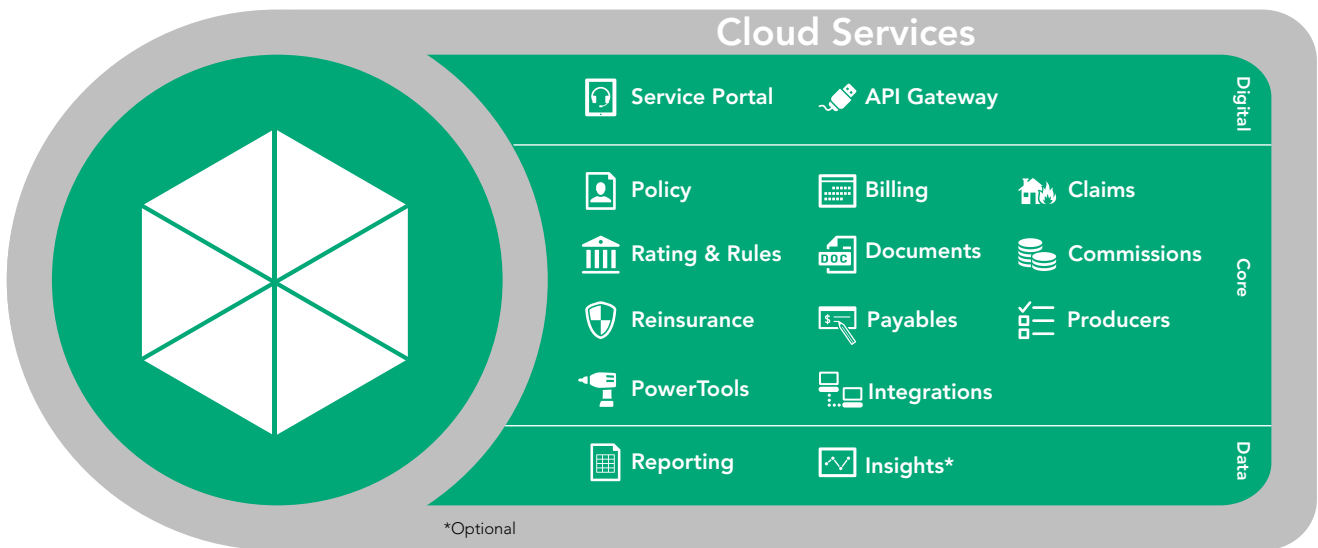

Cloud-Based

Properly managing the direction of your company and making difficult decisions that affect the future of your business are not easy tasks. But you can't concentrate on those decisions if you are burdened with making sure your servers are up and running, your applications are available, and your data is safe. Although they are critical to running your business, these issues take away from the time you could be spending—and the resources you could be using—on innovation and shaping your company's future.

Risk mitigation and freedom from system maintenance are just two of the many benefits that come with a cloud-based system. Cloud's agility makes it easier to rapidly test products and other innovations. You can create new environments quickly, without the hassle of waiting for servers to be ordered and provisioned for use. In addition, running a cloud-based system means you get the benefits of having a system that can auto-scale to match growth and accommodate for unexpected spikes in needs—even those brought about by a CAT. With InsuranceNow, you can be certain your applications will be there for the business at all times.

Core and More

The InsuranceNow all-in-one solution includes:

Guided Approach

From implementation to go-live and beyond, we're with you through it all. We have a vested interest in your entire journey and success with InsuranceNow. With our prescriptive advice, garnered from years of experience working with P&C insurers, we provide guidance every step of the way—making recommendations, providing best practices, and ensuring that no stone is left unturned.

Implementation

An all-at-once implementation of a full suite can seem impossible. The challenge of replacing policy, claims, and billing all at the same time may be viewed as too daunting and painful. However, we are experts at doing just this. We've guided more than 40 insurers like you through a systematic approach to replacing legacy systems with a complete suite, leading to faster ROI realization with everything up and running on day one.

After Go-Live

Our guided approach doesn't end at go-live. Now it's time for you to focus on all that the system can do for your business rather than what you have to do to the system. With InsuranceNow, we take on the responsibility for the uptime and performance of the system. This ongoing operational support of InsuranceNow running in the cloud ensures application availability, data protection, and business continuity. Freedom from the day-to-day tactical focus on maintenance enables your technology teams to focus on strategy and innovation. Moreover, one included upgrade per year helps you stay modern by ensuring that you are on the latest version of the software, so your business can benefit from the latest features and functionality available.

With InsuranceNow, you get to focus on what's important—we handle the rest.
